

Production site

We are dedicated to doing business in Germany

Our group can draw on over 60 years of experience in the development of measuring technology. Today we are the world market leader with German roots. At our production sites in Baunach and Radeburg, we develop and manufacture state-of-the-art measurement equipment for all types of supply networks.

Made in Germany