

Production site

We are dedicated to world-wide business with German engineering:

SebaKMT benefits from over 60 years of experience in research and development of high end measurement technologies. Today we are one of the world market trendsetters.

At our production site in Baunach we design and manufacture state-of-the-art measurement equipment for all types of utility networks.

Made in Germany